

I'm not robot  reCAPTCHA

Continue

Commander' s palace brunch

Want to know what reliable online casinos you can play? Commanders Palace offers a list of the ten best online casino sites available for free online. You can find more information on this reputable casino website. We booked our reservation for the Palace of Commanders back in July. My sister ordered a special dress to wear, my husband had a shirt and tie and I wore a beautiful dress. We were the only ones in the resturant with colored clothing. We didn't mind, but it was almost as if we were dressed the most, and even the waitress said how well we got so dressed for dinner! I suppose it's not as fancy as some people say! The food was ok. For dinner we all had turtle soup (decent but wish on Bourbon just as good), my sister and husband ordered a mignonn filet (which was deliciois. My husband said it's the best he's ever had and will go back there just for that). I ordered scallops which were delicious too (but nothing too fancy). I ordered bread pudding I heard so much about. Ok. It was good, but I don't know if maybe I've been looking forward to it for so long, I thought it would be the best bread pudding ever (its really not that special in my opinion). My husband and sister ordered a cheesecake which was delicious but once again. not the best I've ever had. The service was very good, no complaints. We were taken through the kitchen and into the diniung area through a small courtyard. All in all, a nice dinner, but I wouldn't put it on my Must make a list next time we visit NOLA. My husband, however, says he will come back just for filet mignon! He loved it! Difference of opinion, I suppose. The food was very good, but not wow, which I was hoping for from this legendary restaurant. I ordered the famous red fish with a nut crust which I though was very good, but I think the fish was not prepared well and very dry. My husband ordered... The steak he said was delicious and cooked perfectly. The service was perfect and the atmosphere was excellent. The only thing memorable about the food was the bread pudding souffle, which was WOW and should not be missed. ( I recommend getting my own, I don't want to share :). it was a very good meal, but having heard stories about it for decades, it just wasn't the wow food I was hoping for. More New Orleans Guide: Restaurants Photo courtesy of Commanders Palace Kitchen: American, Creole, local speciality price range: $$$ Mud plate within 100 miles is M.O. Chef Creole Tori McPhail from the Palace of Commander, located in the Garden district of New Orleans. Read more at 1403 Washington Avenue New Orleans, LA 70130504-899-8221 Mon-Fri: 11:30 a.m.-2 p.m.; 6.30pm-9pm Sat: 11.30am-12.30pm 6:30 p.m.-9 Sun: 10:30 a.m.-1 p.m.; 6:30 p.m.-9 p.m. EXPERT TIPS BY: Beth D'Addono New Orleans Local Creole expert: Reservations are needed at the palace on Washington Ave. Beignets: Yes, the restaurant serve 25 cents over dinner, reason enough to go to the commander. Best restaurants: Two-course lunches are $18-$21, best enjoyed with 25 cents a martini for lunch - just three for a customer. Best Garden District lunch: 25 cents martini for lunch. That's all there is to it. Best Garden District Brunch: Jazz Brunch is an epic New Orleans experience at this Creole institution. Best for Creole because: This bucket-list restaurant that is part of New Orleans dining culture. Best for Beignets Because: This flagship Brennan family offers a seminal New Orleans dining experience recommended as the best restaurants because: This iconic New Orleans eatery is a shining star in the Brennan family's crown. Best for the best garden district lunches because: Lunch at The Commander's Palace allows you to indulge in their delicious meals for a fraction of what it will cost over dinner. Best for the best garden district brunch because: The Palace of The Commander offers a swanky brunch priced at $40.5, three courses if Creole goodness that guarantees a special occasion. things to do restaurants nightlife stay Level Contributor 398 posts 122 reviews 62 useful voices of palace commanders Sunday brunch 10 years ago we want to try a jazz brunch at CM. I can't find a price. Does anyone know that they charge a fee per person for a Sunday jazz brunch? Thanks to Level Contributor 5,992 posts 14 reviews 28 useful votes 1. Re: Commanders of the Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago First, it's not one brunch price, or all for one price, like the court of two sisters. Commander's Palace brunch is your choice of one item in each category, snacks, dishes, dessert and drink (I recommend Bloody Maria). I think there is some variance depending on what you order, but I think it's in the $40 range before tipping. It's fabulous and I highly recommend it. Level Contribution 398 posts 122 reviews 62 useful votes 2. Re: The commanders of the palace Sunday brunch 10 years ago is great. it gives me a good idea of what it will cost for our party, think we'll do it on Valentine's Day. Thank you again! Level Contributor 3,336 posts 11 reviews 15 useful votes 3. Re: Commanders Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago you should call right now on this issue. With Valentine's Day falling during the big carnival weekend, I wouldn't be surprised if they've been sold out. Level Contributor 4,036 posts 82 reviews 121 useful votes 4. Re: Commanders of the Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago Hands down to try this brunch. If you can't do it this time, definitely try to match it next time! Here's a menu with prices: the contributor's level of 3343 posts 270 reviews 391 useful votes 5. Re: Commanders of the Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years For maximum enjoyment of the commanders' experience, ask for a table in the garden room. Get there a little early and ask to wait for a table in the kitchen bar, where you can watch the culinary action. If the weather permits, take a walk through the garden. Garden. Dress up a little. While they don't require jackets and nicer women's clothing, management seems appreciate it to take a little more kindly special requests if those are asked to look good. If it's good weather, give time before or after dinner to take a look at the cemetery across the street and especially walk around the amazing mansions on the streets behind the restaurant. It's a safe walk and parking is free on those blocks. No need to pay for valet commanders' service if the weather is bad or you have trouble getting around. Level Contribution 167 posts 15 reviews 11 useful votes 6. Re: Commanders palace Sunday brunch 10 years ago I think everyone should try commanders at least once. This is the New Orleans Institute. My sister and brother-in-law made Sunday brunch when they arrived for the week of our wedding. My sister liked it, my law didn't. He would have preferred a less stuffy automoshir. I myself have had a bad experience at Commanders, and probably won't come back. My husband took me there to propose to me and the waiter failed as it was done, he basically dropped the card with my husband, asking me to marry him to us with a check. Our waiter (a transplanted New Yorker who had lived in NO for many years, as he said) was really quite snuffed out and ignored us for long periods, joking with a group of older women he obviously knew. As it was a special night for me, I was very injured and can't say I would like to eat there again. I was so looking forward to just being in command and it ruined it for me. Oddly enough, we went to the Redfish Grill (also owned by Brennans) for our wedding dinner and they were absolutely lovely and made our evening so special. Level Contribution 76 posts 3 reviews 2 useful votes 7. Re: Commanders Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago Let us know if you have luck.... I've already tried for batch 4 and they couldn't fit. So I ordered Muriel's F, not. Level Contribution 398 posts 122 reviews 62 useful votes 8. Re: Commanders of the Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago I ordered brunch some time ago on this date and asked for a garden room. We received a reservation at 10:30. Just hope we can get there on Carnival Sunday. Our hotel is on the corner of the canal and St. Charles so the parades go straight. Can't wait to try this restaurant after hearing so many wonderful things about it. Level Contribution 398 posts 122 reviews 62 useful votes 9. Re: Commanders of the Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago I ordered brunch some time ago on this date and asked for a garden room. We received a reservation at 10:30. Just hope we can get there on Carnival Sunday. Our hotel is on the corner of the canal and St. Charles so the parades go straight. Can't wait to try this restaurant after hearing so much things about it. Level Contribution 12 posts 5 reviews 4 useful votes 10. Re: Commanders Palace Sunday Brunch 10 years ago I just read this, so you may have already found out this . . . I Am I make a reservation two weeks ago and they were booked solid. At the time, Arnaud's f-ing holes were still opening. Holes.